First Year Review in a new pastor-congregation relationship

The survey responses for the First Year Review in a new pastor-congregation relationship affirm a strong and encouraging beginning in a first year of a new pastor-congregation relationship. Thank you for your valued participation in the survey of this review! A total of 33 survey responses were returned, of 50 copies received. The collective responses for both Congregational Life and Lead Pastor sections of the survey were affirmative, in congregation and pastor getting to know each other in this first year. The results reflect a journey toward hope and new possibilities in conversation, from a period of decline of numbers of people attending, many leadership transitions, and even a conference affiliation change. Though not blindly putting differences behind us, there is reflected in the responses a more hopeful conversational atmosphere and a desire to reach out to others and those marginalized around us. Summarized written and reports in person, have been given to Ron, Lead pastor, and to Marilou, and written of the same, to Kyle Horst, Board Chairperson, and to Joanne Dietzel, ACC Conference Minister. More details will be given at the time when the minutes are made available from the July 24 Congregational Leadership Board meeting. For PDT, Rodney Nafziger
